Working With Exsion COSMO CONSULT's Story

Business Situation

The financial controllers working hard at COSMO's customers faced the same challenge: needing reports that provide real-time answers without the hassle of manually gathering data. Traditionally, controllers would spend hours copying and pasting data from different sources, trying to piece together a clear picture.

This is a trend that is found across many industries and it's a problem that financial controllers rarely get the right support in solving.

Solution

With Exsion, the struggles Exsion customers were having are simply a thing of the past.

By connecting tables and combining figures that would otherwise take hours – or be nearly impossible – to compile, Exsion simplifies the entire process. The tool is invaluable for financial teams and CFOs who need insights on tap to be able to make informed decisions.

With Exsion, seeing financial patterns is easier than ever. Whether it's tracking purchasing trends, monitoring manufacturing costs, or analyzing financial performance, the ability to visualize data empowers businesses to act proactively and get ahead.

✦ Since 2014, I've seen how Exsion transforms financial reporting from a manual struggle into a seamless, real-time experience. Working directly in Excel, finance teams can easily fetch live data from Business Central, customize reports with drag-and-drop simplicity, and drill down into the numbers instantly ✦

Data-driven decision-making has become the backbone of financial success. For finance professionals, access to real-time, accurate financial data is essential for making informed choices. But lots of businesses still struggle with time-consuming manual reporting, clunky interfaces, and tools that simply don't match their needs.

For COSMO CONSULT, Exsion has been a big part of its service offering, helping make data analysis seamless and empowering financial professionals to act fast in the right way.

A consultant's journey with Exsion

Anders Willberger, a financial controller turned consultant, has been working with Exsion since 2014. Introduced to the tool by his former boss and guided by Exsion365 consultants, Anders quickly recognized the power of Exsion in simplifying financial reporting. Since then, he has been instrumental in bringing Exsion to the Nordic market, using his knowledge of Excel and NAV to help businesses of all sizes gain control over their financial data.

Today, COSMO CONSULT not only resells Exsion Reporting but also provides guidance and training on how to leverage its full potential. In Sweden, Anders alone has helped 30 - 40 companies – both large and small – enhance their financial reporting with Exsion.

Why Exsion stands out

One of Exsion's greatest advantages is its deep integration with Excel, a platform that financial professionals already know and trust. Unlike complex BI tools that require extensive training, Exsion is intuitive – it works just how you expect it to.

For consultants, Exsion is a game-changer. It provides a transparent view of Business Central data, making it an excellent resource for auditors and financial advisors. It also simplifies third-party data sourcing, helping businesses integrate financial insights seamlessly into their operations.

At COSMO CONSULT, onboarding new users with Exsion is quick and efficient. After an initial setup, most customers find themselves comfortable with the tool almost immediately. It's basically plug-and-play, allowing finance teams to start building standard reports from day one.

Additionally, COSMO CONSULT often pre-builds customized reports for clients, meaning they get the exact insights they need before expanding their reporting capabilities on their own.

Anders Willberger recommends:

*Exsion isn't just fast – it's flexible, powerful, and built for finance professionals who need answers now.

*At COSMO CONSULT, we help businesses unlock their full potential, making reporting effortless and decision-making smarter.

The Competitive Edge

While tools like Power BI serve well as dashboard solutions for KPIs, Exsion goes deeper, helping businesses uncover the 'why' behind the numbers. It offers a unique advantage for controllers who want to drill down into specific financial data and generate reports tailored to their unique business needs. Exsion shows exactly where the data from Business Central is coming from with the drill-down function and then takes the user from Excel to Business Central with all the filters applied – that's just one of the reasons that Exsion is the controller's best friend.

By focusing on a fast, user-friendly experience, Exsion continues to evolve, making financial reporting even more powerful and accessible. Looking ahead, Anders sees potential for Exsion to expand further into manufacturing and consulting, where financial professionals need fast, detailed, and customizable reports.
